Concept

The New Nature Series

This new set of art is inspired by the flowers in nature which bloom in different seasons. While I travel in different places, at different times, the beauty of flowers hypnotizes me through their colours and forms.

So I picked up the distinct colours and the natural forms of the flowers and then added in my own thoughts to create works of art. I desire to make new work pieces, avoiding the humdrum of the routine by walking out of the old mindset and limitations by setting the outer tonal colour as I see fit and draw flowers with movement, letting them float around, and fade, fall in a surrealistic style.
